unyer Disputes Talks

Mass Claims Litigation in theory and practice – National and European perspectives

Mass Claims – meaning a high number of parallel individual claims as well as organized collective or bundled claims – are well established in several European jurisdictions and have led to different reactions by the defendants, the claimant bar, the courts and companies. In the next edition of “unyer Disputes Talks”, our litigation experts from Italy, France and Germany will present recent legal developments as well as practical means to handle Mass Claims.

We look forward to your participation.
